Out in force: Park steward Jason Beale

SPACE SAVERS

Dedicated patrols return to tempt us back into Haringey's parks

By Lucy Purdy

MANY parks in Haringey will now be staffed from dusk until dawn as part of a new plan to tempt more people into the borough's green spaces.

The four organisations behind the Parkforce Pledge, which was signed last Friday in the Albert Road Recreation Ground, hope the new partnership will turn Haringey's parks into places which are "buzzing with activity".

Haringey Council, the Metropolitan Police, the borough's Friends of Parks Forum and conservation charity BTCV have all signed up to the new scheme. They hope to increase the presence of staff in 12 of the borough's "significant" parks, create a sense of better security with regular patrols by the Met's safer parks unit and Safer Neighbourhood teams, and inspire more people to volunteer in, visit and enjoy Haringey's open spaces.

Dave Morris, of Haringey's Friends of Parks Forum, described the pledge as a "real step forward".

He said: "It's something we have been campaigning for over the years and we are really pleased that Parkforce is based on working in partnership toward the future.

"But we feel there is more work to be done in terms of ensuring there is adequate resources for the proper maintenance and management of all Haringey's green spaces."

Parkforce stewards mean extra eyes and ears in parks.

The plan comes after the controversial scrapping of the parks police in Haringey in April, which left green spaces across the borough without a dedicated police presence. Now, 24 new park stewards will work alongside the Metropolitan Police's safer parks unit and local SNT patrols.

Haringey safer neighbourhoods Inspector John Forde said: "The introduction of Parkforce stewards means we will have an increased presence in our parks, providing us with extra eyes and ears. We welcome the introduction of Parkforce and will work together to improve park security and reduce anti-social behaviour."

But safety is just one aspect of the pledge.

Conservation charity BTCV specialises in environmental education, teaching youth and school groups about the importance of conservation and encouraging children to get close to nature on wildlife hunts and pond-dipping sessions. Staff also run volunteering sessions, health walks and other themed events including bat walks and herbal walks.

Jon Holland, community outreach officer for the charity in Haringey, said: "We are really pleased to be part of the Parkforce project.

"Through working with partner organisations, volunteers and residents, we can plan and deliver activities in Haringey's parks which will really benefit local people and the environment. We'd love to hear from local people with ideas for other activities we could run in Haringey's parks."

Two sought after robbery at bookies

STAFF and a customer at a bookmakers in Haringey were threatened by gun-wielding robbers during an attack on July 15.

Two armed, black men, thought to be aged between 25 and 30, stormed into Coral bookmakers in Green Lanes at about 8.30am. They threatened staff members, forcing them to open a safe, and threatened and searched a 33-year-old customer, taking cash and mobile phones from him.

They also took money from the shop before running towards Colina Road. Call Detective Constable Pat Dunne with any information on 020 8358 1751.

Man jailed over club glass attack

By Lucy Purdy

A VIOLENT thug who smashed a wine glass into an innocent man's face during an assault in a Wood Green nightclub has been sentenced to two years in jail.

Dean Hughes, 26, of Boyton Road, pleaded guilty to grievous bodily harm at Wood Green Crown Court on July 16.

The court heard how on September 20 last year, his victim, a 23-year-old Polish man who was visiting the country, was dancing with friends in the Shout nightclub in High Road.

The man was with a female friend when he accidentally knocked into Hughes who was dancing next to him.

Hughes grabbed hold of the man and the two struggled before Hughes lunged at him, smashing a wine glass into his face and leaving the man with permanent scars.

Although staff at the club tried to detain Hughes, he broke free with the help of friends, ran out of the club and drove off.

Officers later stopped the vehicle in White Hart Lane after it was seen being driven erratically and, after seeing Hughes had cuts on his hands, arrested him. He was taken to Tottenham police station and charged with grievous bodily harm.

Detective Constable Kerry Burgess, who investigated the attack, said: "This was a violent and horrific attack on an innocent man who is now permanently scarred as a result of Hughes' actions."

"This sentence has taken a violent offender off the Haringey streets."

Estate raid nets coma suspects

SIX teenagers from Tottenham have been arrested in early-morning raids by police investigating an assault which left a young father in a life-threatening coma.

British Transport Police officers arrested four 17-year-olds and two 16-year-olds when they raided properties on Broadwater Farm Estate last week.

Michael Ogbuehi, 20, from Chalkwell in Essex, was travelling by train from Southend to London with his heavily pregnant girlfriend on May 29 when he was attacked by a large group of youths, suffering head injuries in what police believe was a sustained and unprovoked attack. Mr Ogbuehi later complained of headaches before he fell into a coma and his condition is now described as critical.

Mr Ogbuehi's girlfriend, known only as Molly, has since given birth to their daughter and made an emotional plea this week for justice to be served.

She said: "I want these people to be brought to justice."

"Because of these evil people my child won't ever know her father. I had to witness my partner being assaulted in this terrible way and that image will never leave me. I am devastated and will not forget what they've done to me and my little girl."

Detective Superintendent Ashley Croft said: "It is crucial that anyone with information about what happened comes forward and speaks to us."

"We know that the train which left Southend was a crowded service with many on board."

Following the assault, the couple alighted at Benfleet and Critical condition: Michael Ogbuehi

the train continued to London with the group still on board.

The youths who were arrested have been bailed to appear in court on September 29.

Anyone with information can contact police on 0800 405040.

NATIONAL PANDEMIC FLU
SERVICEwww.direct.gov.uk/pandemicfluINFORMATION 0800 1 513 513*TREATMENT 0800 1 513 100

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT TREATMENT FOR SWINE FLU

A new strain of Influenza A (H1N1), also known as swine flu, was confirmed in the UK in April and has spread to more than 100 countries around the world prompting the World Health Organization (WHO) to declare a global flu pandemic.

The National Pandemic Flu Service

In order to deal with the increasing number of cases of swine flu in England, the NHS has launched the National Pandemic Flu Service. This is a new self-care service with online and phone access which allows you to check your symptoms and access antivirals if required, or receive advice on symptom-relief. This service is only intended for people who are ill with swine flu. It still allows you to go to your doctor if necessary.

Staying at home and accessing antivirals via the National Pandemic Flu Service will reduce pressure on your GP surgery and local NHS services and prevent you spreading the virus within your community.

How to use the National Pandemic Flu Service

1. Go online at www.direct.gov.uk/pandemicflu or call 0800 1 513 100.
Textphone is available on 0800 1 513 200.
2. You'll be taken through a list of simple questions about your symptoms and medical history, and asked to confirm your date of birth, name and address including your postcode.
3. If you are confirmed as having swine flu, you may be given an authorisation number which will allow your 'flu friend' (a family member, friend or neighbour) to collect a course of antivirals on your behalf from a local collection point in your area. You will also be given advice on how to treat your symptoms at home.

What are the symptoms of swine flu?

If you have a fever or a high temperature (over 38°C / 100.4°F) and have two of the following symptoms: unusual tiredness, headache, runny nose, sore throat, shortness of breath or cough, loss of appetite, aching muscles, diarrhoea or vomiting, you may have swine flu.

What are antivirals and how can they help?

Antivirals can't cure swine flu but they can help you to recover more quickly and they can relieve some of your symptoms.

When is it better to contact your doctor?

You should contact your doctor direct rather than using the National Pandemic Flu Service if:

- You have a serious underlying illness.
- You are pregnant.
- You have a sick child under one year old.
- You or your child's condition suddenly gets much worse.
- Your condition is still getting worse after 7 days (5 days for a child).

What are flu friends and how can they help?

Flu friends are family members, friends or neighbours who can help you if you get ill. They can contact the National Pandemic Flu Service on your behalf to assist with the assessment, and if required they can collect antivirals as well as help with food and over-the-counter medicines. This will avoid you having to leave your home and prevent you spreading the virus within your community, so it's advised that you nominate at least one friend now.

To use the National Pandemic Flu Service and to collect antivirals, your flu friend will need their own and the patient's ID (a list of IDs will be available from the online service or the call centre). If you have any underlying health conditions, it's important your flu friend knows about them when using the service on your behalf.

Where can I go for more general information?

For more information on swine flu visit www.direct.gov.uk/pandemicflu or call the Information Line on 0800 1 513 513.

Paul proves that he's a tough guy

By Lucy Purdy

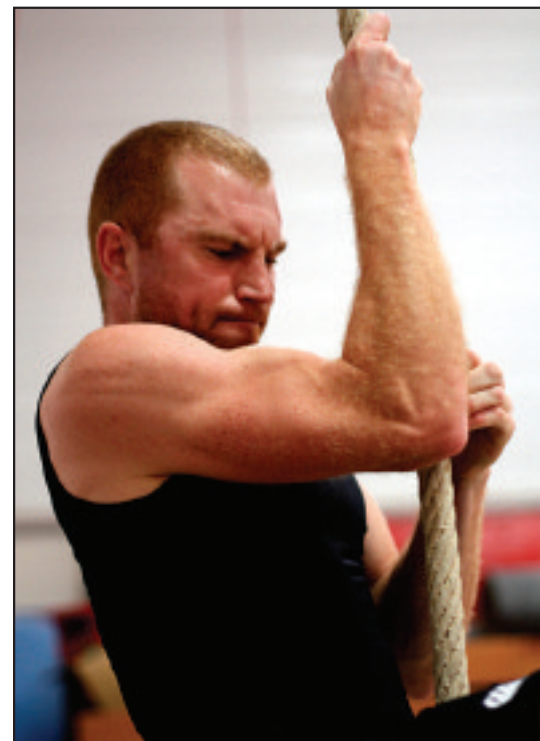

A PERSONAL trainer from Crouch End has completed a gruelling assault course, billed as the ultimate test of physical and mental endurance.

Paul Fallows, 32, of Berkeley Road, took part in the Tough Guy Challenge on Sunday. Set on 150 acres of farmland near Wolverhampton, the event involves eight miles of ropes, wading through ditches full of mud, wincing between electric fences and charging through nettles. Though many fail to reach the finishing line, Paul managed to complete the test in two hours and 15 minutes.

He said: "It was absolute hell, freezing and very tough. Afterwards, I felt a massive sense of achievement and was exhilarated. My body was exhausted but my mind was still running."

"I demand a lot from my clients and get them to work really hard to achieve their goals, so I thought I should do something new too and really push myself as far as I can go. I would definitely do it again."

Paul's day job prepared him for the challenge as he specialises in training using kettlebells – cast-iron weights which look like cannonballs with a handle. But he also has a fear of confined spaces and avoids using lifts or the Underground so having to crawl through claustrophobia-inducing tunnels of mud presented him with a real test.

"I was dreading them all the way round," he admitted. "But when I got there I felt such pure adrenaline they felt easy."

He also had to swim through a lake and dodge burning bales of hay alongside the 4,000 other participants and hopes to raise at least £1,000 for London Play, a charity which improves children's play spaces in the capital.

Gay chatline warning after attacks

POLICE in Haringey are warning people to be "extremely careful" when meeting people through internet chat rooms or gay chatlines after two men were threatened with knives and robbed.

The warning comes as detectives from the borough's robbery squad look into two separate robberies which happened this month. In each case, the victim had arranged to meet someone after contacting them through a gay chatline before being mugged at knifepoint.

Both meetings took place in public but things took a sinister turn when the men went somewhere private. The incidents are being treated as linked, and officers are scouring CCTV and phone records.

Detective Constable Michael Shipley, of Haringey robbery squad, said: "If you are arranging to meet with someone via a chatline, please exercise caution. You may have established an online or phone friendship but they are a stranger and should be treated as such. Don't rush or be pressurised into it. If you do decide to meet with someone, do so in a public place where there are CCTV cameras and other people and take a friend, at least initially."

Anyone with information can contact DC Michael Shipley on 020 8345 0870.

Man charged with murder of soldiers

A MAN has been charged with the murder of two soldiers in Northern Ireland, including a 21-year-old from Wood Green.

Brian Shivers, 44, from Maghera in County Derry, appeared in court in Ballymena on July 23 charged with the murders of 21-year-old Patrick Azimkar and another soldier from Birmingham. Patrick, who served with the Royal Engineers since 2005, was shot dead at close range on March 7 outside the Masareene Army base in Antrim. He was ambushed alongside 23-year-old Mark Quinsey as they left the barracks to pay for a pizza delivery.

A plaque is to be put up in Haringey to commemorate the young soldier's life. Patrick's mother Geraldine said she was "very proud" of what her son had achieved.

Shivers, who is also accused of possession of firearms and ammunition with intent to endanger life, as well as six counts of attempted murder, was refused bail and remanded in custody. He is due to appear in court on August 18.

Fourth appeal over Baby P sackings

THE fourth Haringey Council official sacked following failings in the Baby Peter case has appealed against his dismissal.

Clive Preece, who was head of children in need and safeguarding when 17-month-old Baby Peter died, becomes the latest council worker to appeal. Baby Peter's social worker Maria Ward, deputy director of children's services Cecilia Hitchen and team manager Gillie Christou are already appealing.

Top dance troupe lights up audience at the O₂ stadium

A DANCE troupe of young amateurs had the once-in-a-lifetime chance to perform in front of more than 14,000 spectators at the O₂ stadium.

The group performed several routines at the prestigious venue. The pupils, from West Lea School, many of whom are wheelchair-bound, joined dance groups from around the capital for the Beatles-themed Voices For A Better World show.

Teacher Valerie Harnett said: "It was a very long day, but it was worth it. It was a great experience for them. They got to meet some of the celebrities and they signed their shirts. They were performing with 4,000 others and many of them had not met before the previous Friday when we had a run through in Hornchurch.

"We had been working on it since we came back after Christmas. They were very apprehensive, but they were brilliant and we are very proud of what they achieved."

The troupe performed choreographed skits to Beatles classics, All You Need Is Love, With A Little Help From My Friends and Drive My Car.

Up for a challenge: Broomfield Park Swimming Club on an Underground train with Northern line manager Jeff Ellis

Swimmers on track to the end of the line

A TEAM of single-minded youngsters have raised £1,500 for charity by swimming the entire length of the Northern line.

Members of Broomfield Park Swimming Club clocked up a total of 58km in laps of the Queen Elizabeth's Girls' School over several weeks. The money is being split between the Alzheimer's Society and their club, a registered charity. To set the challenge, the team mapped out the distance between each station and then converted it into lengths of the pool.

Duncan Jackman, who organised the event, said: "Some stations were tougher to swim to than others. Getting to Totteridge from High Barnet was a long haul at 107 lengths, but Euston to King's Cross was a doddle at 27!

"I'm really proud of the club. It's a great family club that caters for all levels of swimmers and it's a credit to the children who swam so hard and raised a phenomenal amount of money for charity."

The first two to make it to the end of the line were 14-year-old Charlie Crowfoot and Kelly Floyd, 12, who swam as far as Morden in just under 20 hours.

Last Friday, Northern line manager Jeff Ellis met the team at their starting point, High Barnet station, to congratulate the swimmers. He said: "The Northern line is used by thousands of people daily but I don't think many can say they have actually swum the distance. So well done to the team for their inventive idea and for having the perseverance to stick to it."

The club holds lessons and events for all ages at Queen Elizabeth's Girls' School in High Street, High Barnet, and Southgate Leisure Centre in Winchmore Hill Road. Visit www.broomfieldparks.org.uk to find out more.

Enter Swim4Life's competition and win a family holiday to Alton Towers Waterpark

WITH summer in full swing, Change4Life launches Swim4Life – the perfect time to cool off and contribute towards kids' recommended 60 minutes of activity each day.

And to help you encourage your kids into the pool, Swim4Life is launching a competition to get kids to design a new swimming stroke and win an amazing prize!

All you need to do is get your kids in the pool trying out new ways to swim. There's no limit on how creative kids can be with their stroke, as long as it's fun, easy to do and keeps them active. Once they've come up with an idea, all you need to do is send in:

A few words (under 100) describing the new stroke and where the idea for it came from. A drawing or photo that helped inspired the creation of the stroke – for example of an image of animal or fish that you copied.

A suggested name for the stroke. Your name, age and contact details (a telephone number, postal address or email address).

Closing date is August 17. A shortlist will be published in August and the winning stroke as chosen by a panel of experts, will be announced in September.

The winner will receive a great holiday to Alton Towers Water Park for two adults and four children. As well as entrance to the park, the prize also includes two days' hire of a seven-seater vehicle including petrol allowance, overnight accommodation and spending money.

To enter online, send entries to competition@swim4life.org.uk, or send your entry, along with your name, address and a contact telephone number to: Swim4Life Competition, PO Box 2656, London, W1A 3RR.

This great competition is just one way to get up and about and into the water. If you're keen to get your little ones swimming for the first time, try the Swim4Life Challenge with Huggies Little Swimmers. It's a four-week guide designed to give parents the tools they need to go from bath to pool with confidence.

Parents should visit www.littleswimmers.com/uk.

And the great news is that in many areas you can hit the pool for free – check out your area by visiting www.culture.gov.uk.

Call to action

We all have our ways of keeping fit and eating well, so we want to see how you and your family are making a Change4Life! Do send your pictures and stories to the address on page 2 and we will try to share it with our readers.

Off-track rail heist

The Taking Of Pelham 123 (15)

Director: Tony Scott
Starring: Denzel Washington, John Travolta, John Turturro, James Gandolfini

IT often feels like you're being beaten into submission at the beginning of a Tony Scott film.

Cameras whiz around iconic locations, then suddenly drop to slow-mo pans; just as abruptly, the pace picks up again and the camera hurtles off somewhere new, its over-saturated lens draping everything in unreal tones; and all of this to a soundtrack of loud, pounding beats.

The effect is close to sensory overload. And the intention, cynics would suggest, is to lure viewers into mistaking style for substance, into confusing volume and speed with skill and vision.

This is the case with The Taking Of Pelham 123, his remake of Joseph Sargent's cult 1974 film of the same name. As with so much of Scott's work (Man On Fire, Spy Game, Enemy Of The State and so on), subtlety is an early casualty, but not to say this is all style over substance.

While it misses the mark on many levels, at the film's core is a captivating performance from Denzel Washington, without whom the film would be infinitely poorer.

Driving force: Denzel Washington's performance is on the mark

Washington takes the role of New York subway transportation coordinator Walter Garber, who is on duty when a machine gun-wielding gang led by a particularly maniacal fellow called Ryder (John Travolta) hijack a subway train.

Even after the hostage negotiation team arrives, Ryder refuses to deal with anyone other than Garber, placing the lives of almost 20 hostages in the hands of Washington's everyman figure, who has to engage with Ryder and stop him from killing the passengers while a $10million ransom is delivered to the hijackers.

Scott's trademark style and flourishes give it the spit-and-polish feel of an edge-of-the-seat thriller, but it never really connects in the way it should, and the supposed "drama" of the situation feels rather plain and perfunctory.

That it is perfectly passable popcorn-quaffing fare is beyond doubt, but you end up wishing Scott would pay as much attention to the present as he does the wrapping.

Now Showing...

Brüno (18)

The most cringeworthy, pseudo-documentary laugh-riot of the year has arrived. Borat probably shades it but there are still enough hilarious set pieces from Sacha Baron Cohen as the camper-than-Christmas, "greatest Austrian since Hitler" fashion icon.

Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince (12A)

Teenage angst is the new magic at Hogwarts in part six. Love and laughter but also lots of thrills and spills as the series gears up for its epic two-part finale as the darkness draws in...

Public Enemies (15)

A misfiring gangster flick and a poor relation to the Cagney classic, The Public Enemy. Johnny Depp plays John Dillinger, Christian Bale plays his police hunter nemesis, but both fire blanks under heavy-handed direction from Michael Mann.

Sunshine Cleaning (15)

Amy Adams and Emily Blunt star as two quirky sisters who set up the Sunshine Cleaning business to clean up messy crime scenes. Shame they couldn't disinfect it from glib sentimentality.

Admire upcoming talent

THE best of the borough's artists will be displaying their wares over the next week during The Barnet Guild of Artists' summer exhibition.

Now in its 61st year, the event brings in art enthusiasts from across London and gives local artists the chance to showcase their talents. The festival, launched on Tuesday with a private viewing for local dignitaries, will take place at the Pennefather Hall, Christ church in St Albans Road, Barnet.

On display at the free event will be sculptures, paintings, including landscapes and portraits, and fruits of the potter's wheel.

Most of the works on display are for sale and unframed but mounted portfolio pieces will also be available, giving sharp-eyed visitors the chance to invest in work by up-and-coming artists before prices go through the roof.

The guild, which was founded in 1948, is now a very well established group of jobbing artists, who regularly meet and organise tutorials and workshops for members.

There will also be the opportunity to buy postcard prints of some of the work for those on a tighter budget.

The exhibition is open from 10am to 7pm today, tomorrow and Saturday this week and Monday to Friday next week at the same times. On August 8, the final day of the event, the doors will close at 5pm.

Fish 'n' chips still tips the scales for hungry bellies

The Gannets

Burlingtons
 53 Windmill Hill, Enfield
 020 8366 5656

AS GANNETS, whenever we swoop into a restaurant it just seems like the natural thing to do to scan a menu for the fish options.

But sometimes that urge for something from the sea just can't be topped by heading into a good old-fashioned fish 'n' chips shop.

Luckily for us, Burlingtons isn't just a good fish 'n' chips shop, it is also a great fish 'n' chips restaurant.

As a runner-up in our Restaurant Of The Year competition a couple of years ago, we have always known it was at the top of its game. But after what has clearly been a shockingly overextended break we were back for what we expected to be a real treat.

Old favourite: Fish 'n' chips still popular

Oh, it was, it really was! With a menu stuffed with a huge number of simple pleasures, we struggled to decide, but decide we did.

The plethora of TV chefs constantly bang on about cooking simply with just a few ingredients, but Burlingtons blows them out of the water when it shows such magnificence by combining fish and spuds.

As Burlingtons has a traditional fish 'n' chips counter at the front, all of the cooking is done within the open-plan restaurant, which did nothing but add to our crushing hunger pains. And as our beaks sought out the smells, we caught sight of the specials on the wall! D'oh! They sounded even sweeter than the menu! Schoolboy error!

With plenty of customers around the kitchen is constantly in full swing, so it took no time at all for the food to arrive – whole trout with a light garlic sauce was the highlight of our bunch (£10.90), although the simple cod and chips from the children's menu (£4.90) was woofed down by our pint-sized special guest gannet.

A quick dessert of ice-cream followed (£3.90), and disappeared just as fast, to leave us grinning like fools.

Next week, who knows where we will land and what gastro nibbles we will report back on, but in our hearts we will be counting the days until we swoop back into Burlingtons.

● Opening times: Midday to 11pm. Closed Sunday.

BRITISH MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT & UK CYPRIOTS RALLY IN SUPPORT OF JUSTICE FOR CYPRUS

British Cypriots, supporters and politicians from across the UK's political spectrum, turned out in force on 19th July to condemn Turkey's intransigence over efforts to end Turkey's 35-year illegal military occupation of the northern part of Cyprus.

A mass demonstration outside the Turkish Embassy included the handing in of a petition to the Turkish Embassy by Peter Droussiatis, the President of the National Federation of Cypriots in the UK accompanied by the Federation's Officers.

This was followed by a march through the heart of London to Trafalgar Square for the Main Rally.

Prime Minister Gordon Brown was first petitioned at 10 Downing Street to use the UK's influence over the Turkish Government in order to persuade Turkey to withdraw its occupation troops and play an active and positive role in current efforts to reunite Cyprus for the benefit of all her citizens.

The Rally in Trafalgar Square was addressed by British MPs and MEPs. Amongst other issues, in his opening address, Peter Droussiatis, President of the National Federation of Cypriots in the UK emphasised that "The division of Cyprus is a scar on the face of the island, an anachronism in the Europe of the 21st century, a tragedy for all the island's people that must not be allowed to continue. This is a division created by Turkey and sustained by it through force of arms. Turkey must, at last, be held to account".

The main speaker from Cyprus, the Minister of the Interior, Neoclis Sylikiotis, spoke of Cyprus' President Demetris Christofias' hope that the goodwill he has shown in current direct negotiations on the island will be matched by the Turkish-Cypriot leader, Mehmet Ali Talat, but added that progress in these talks are dependent upon Turkey's commitment to a solution. "The Cyprus settlement must be found by Cypriots for Cypriots but the key to a solution lies in Ankara. Turkey must abide by international law and the UN resolutions on Cyprus" and, of course, the EU acquis communautaire.

MPs and MEPs, Andrew Dismore, Mary Honeyball, Simon Hughes, Charles Tannock, Theresa Villiers all called on the UK Government and EU Member States to act in order to ensure that the ongoing direct negotiations between the two leaders of the communities succeed. They all referred to the particularly invaluable contribution to these talks by the President of Cyprus Demetris Christofias. There was vocal and unanimous support for a comprehensive and durable settlement which will liberate Cyprus from Turkish military occupation and the island's forced division for the past 35 years.

The Mayor of occupied Famagusta and President of the Occupied Towns and Municipalities, Alexis Galanos, accompanied by the Mayors of the occupied Cypriot towns of Morphou and Lefkara, Charalamous Pitta and Athos Eleftheriou, also addressed those present.

Just before the Main Rally began in Trafalgar Square, Evdokia Chrysostomou, George Grigoriou and Nicos Savvides enthused those present with songs for Cyprus. The Rally and other events organised by the National Federation of Cypriots in the UK, were also attended by the President of the World Federation of Cypriots (POMAK) Haris Sophocleides, the Cyprus High Commissioner Alexandros Zenon, German MEP Reimer Boege, MPs David Burrowes, Roger Gale, Andy Love, Joan Ryan, Rudi Vis, David Lepper, Nigel Waterson, MEP Marina Yannakoudakis, the Mayor of Barnet, Cllr. Brian Coleman, a large number of London Councillors and Members of the Cyprus High Commission.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.

2. Classified Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed "Trade Advertisers", and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.

3. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as "trade", "dealer", "agent", "wholesaler", "T" etc. in the advertisement.

4. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:

(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement.

(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or

(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the advertiser.

5. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.

6. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertiser will be charged for the nearest full page. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.

7. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.

8. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republishing or allowances.

9. All gross advertising rates (except classified line and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertiser to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.

10. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.

11. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.

12. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.

13. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.

14. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.

15. If an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.

16. Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged by the publisher to the advertiser's Court Act 1984.

17. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.

18. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.

19. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.

20. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.

21. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

22. Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address.

23. Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

24. All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

25. The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

26. Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by other telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.

27. Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

Shock win a major boost for North Middlesex

NORTH MIDDLESEX gave a huge boost to their hopes of securing promotion from Division Two of the Middlesex County Cricket League by securing a shock five-wicket win at leaders Southgate on Saturday.

Southgate have been top of the table throughout the season, but a superb spell of bowling from Trevor Semplar (5-34) saw them dismissed for 179.

And Maxwell Creese then top-scored with 63 as North Middlesex made it to 183-5 in reply to climb to fourth place in the table.

However, North London remain bottom of the second division despite securing a crucial 12-run win at home to relegation-rivals Uxbridge.

A low scoring match saw Patrick Mills make a battling 49 as the hosts were dismissed for 128 – with Ryan Connor taking 5-59 – before Tom Wakeford ripped through the visiting batting to end with figures of 6-49 as Uxbridge could only muster 116.

Meanwhile, runaway leaders Hornsey had to settle for a losing draw from their derby clash at Highgate in Division Three.

Ed Binns led the way with 72 as the hosts compiled 256-8 and, despite an unbeaten 69 from Chetan Patel, Hornsey never looked like reaching their target as they eventually closed on 152-5.

North Middlesex entertain Enfield on Saturday, while North London go to Brentham, Hornsey host Barnes and Highgate face a trip to Bessborough.

Late surge KO's Skolars

THE London Skolars fell away badly in the closing stages on Saturday as they suffered a 46-22 defeat at Blackpool Panthers in rugby league's Co-Operative Championship One.

The Skolars, who continued their record of scoring more points on the road than they do at home, looked as if they could be on track for just a second win of the season when they only trailed by six points heading into the final 15 minutes – only for Blackpool to cut loose and end up comfortable victors.

Johnny Leather (two) and Tom Woodcock scored tries for Blackpool prior to the interval, but France A international Jeremy Guiraud crossed the line twice for the Skolars to keep them in contention.

Gareth Honor's try early in the second half levelled the scores, but Carl Forber and Rob Draper crossed the line in quick succession to leave the hosts 28-16 ahead.

Chad Isles' try, converted by Paul Thorman, reduced the deficit to just six points, but Damian Munro, Paul Alcock and Martin Keavney all touched down late on to condemn the troubled Skolars to another defeat.

Stalemate: Jermain Defoe battles for possession against a second-string Barcelona on Friday

Mixed fortunes for Tottenham in Wembley tournament

TOTTENHAM endured mixed fortunes in the Wembley Cup over the weekend.

Young star Jake Livermore, 19, was the hero on Friday night as his late goal secured a 1-1 draw with European champions Barcelona, although manager Pep Guardiola left out the majority of his big guns.

Bojan Krkic had fired home the opener for Barca, but Livermore, who was awarded a new two-year contract before the match, snatched a draw for Spurs.

However Harry Redknapp watched his side go down 2-0 at the hands of Celtic in a disappointing defeat on Sunday.

Chris Killen headed the Scots ahead early, and Georgios Samaras sealed the win when he ran from half-way before hammering the ball past keeper Heurelho Gomes.

SPURS LAND CROUCH

By Lee Husson

TOTTENHAM manager Harry Redknapp said he is now happy with his strikeforce after Peter Crouch completed his move to Spurs on Monday.

England forward Crouch, who joins the club in a £9million deal, will team up once again with his former boss Redknapp and former Portsmouth strike partner Jermain Defoe.

The gangly striker bagged 16 goals at struggling Pompey last season, and Redknapp said he was "delighted" that Crouch opted to switch the South Coast for North London.

"He gives us a bit of a different option," Redknapp said. "We now have four top strikers which is what you need at every club, and so I am delighted to have Crouchy."

"He is different to almost anyone else in the league in terms of his size and the way he plays the game, so I am pleased to have him."

"With him, Robbie [Keane] Jermain Defoe and [Roman] Pavlyuchenko we have a good strikeforce."

Crouch's arrival will see Redknapp drop his interest in Klaas-Jan Hunterlaar, and will spell the end of Darren Bent's Spurs career.

"Darren is looking to go, I believe he is close to a deal with Sunderland," the boss added. "He will always score goals – he is a good player but I just want some balance and Crouchy would give us something different."

Redknapp is also expected to bolster his back line in the coming weeks after Ledley King, Jonathan Woodgate and Michael Dawson all missed last weekend's Wembley Cup through injury, although he rubbished reports of a move for West Ham United's Matthew Upson.

"I've never, ever mentioned Matthew," he said. "He's a terrific player but I've never mentioned the boy's name, he belongs to West Ham and please God for West Ham he stays there."

Meanwhile, Spurs swooped to land their first two signings of the summer last week in Sheffield United young duo Kyle Naughton and Kyle Walker in a combined £8m deal.
